Hi Jess,

Thanks for your quick response. I completely understand and hope the mine spill is under control soon.

Please just let us know when you resume normal posting and our messages go out. Thanks, and hang in there!

Hi Allison & Brenda,

Due to the Gold King Mine spill we will only be posting messages about our response to that incident through the end of this week. Monday we will re-evaluate our communications plans.

Julia will start working on these posts and getting them reviewed and approved. Once we resume normal posting, we will start posting information on this announcement. At this time, I can't tell you when that will be.

Please feel free to call me if you have any questions.

Thanks! Jess

Hi Jess and Julia,

It looks like Allison's email may not have reached you yesterday (I don't see your names in distribution fields). The Indoor Environments Division has just launched a new and exciting mobile app for schools to conduct indoor air quality assessments of their buildings. The press release went out earlier today.

We have developed a robust set of Facebook and Twitter messages to promote this new tool which we're hoping you will post during the following special theme weeks and months:

1. August 12 – 14 – in conjunction with the press release
2. August 17 – 21 – “Back to School Week”
3. October – “Children’s Health Month”
4. January – “National Radon Action Month”
5. May – “Asthma Awareness Month”

We also have a web banner, graphic and widget that could be posted on EPA's front page. Would you have a few minutes this afternoon or tomorrow morning to discuss a social media plan for this new mobile app? Thanks!

+ adding Jess and Julia

Jess and Julia- attached are our draft social media for tomorrow's release (also attached). You have lots to choose from and these all don't need to go out at once.

Allison,

10am is great. Attached are Twitter and Facebook posts that have been vetted in our office. Who should I work with to get some of these up? Is it still Jess Orquina?

Also, not a deal breaker, based on Laura's most recent edits, we do typically say "academic performance" when it comes to stating positive outcomes for students and staff. We have studies that back this up, if this were to be added back in.

Thanks everyone. It sure does take a village.

~Jen

How does 10 am work for everyone?

Robert- can you include me and Amanda, Brenda and Jennifer on your 60 minute warning email?

ORIA- Let us know if you have any concerns with these final edits. Also, are we on tap for issuing social media for this announcement too?

A few additional edits here; see attached. All set on my end.

I believe Robert is going to get this out tomorrow morning.

Thanks!

Importance: High

Hi Allison and all,

Dave Rowson is just back from vacation today and had a chance to review the press release. There are two small but important edits he would like to make, as well as a few minor optional edits he would like you to consider (see attached in track changes). Please let me know if you'd like to discuss any of these edits.

Also, I understand you asked Jennifer Lemon if we have a preference for when this goes out tomorrow. Morning would be great.

Thanks for everyone's time and effort on this press release. We're excited about letting folks know about this new resource for schools!

Morning!

As a reminder, Amanda is out today. Keep her cc'ed her on emails though since she'll be back in tomorrow.

Attached is the updated school IAQ app press reflect that reflects Janet's minor edits to her quote (see attached in track changes)

Laura- I believe this release is now moved to your desk for final review and approval!
